

GEORGIA HERO'S RELATIVES HAVE NOT BEEN LOCATED

George Miller, Who Remained at Post to Save Comrades, Will be Given Monument.

"When he shoved the charge clear into the gun barrel out of harm's way, he himself stood in the midst of a swirling mass of fire. Life had fled when he fell to the floor of the turret."

Boston, Mass., July 26.—Diligent search has failed to disclose the slight trace of friends or relatives of George Miller, the 18-year-old hero of the battleship Georgia.

The unclaimed body of the American seaman has been laid to rest in the little cemetery attached to the naval hospital at Chelsea.

A wreath of wild roses is his only monument.

What shall be the lasting monument of this real American hero? Will it be of granite or will it be the memory and example of his exalted deed?

And who among us shall write his epitaph, we who know that he gave his life to save a half hundred comrades who escaped; we who know that instead of looking to himself he pushed a powder charge into the breach of an eight-inch gun and thus placed it out of harm's way. Had it become ignited there would have been a terrific explosion, the powder being confined, and every man in the turret would have been a corpse in a second.

A Hero's Death. Comrades are telling the story over and over with wet eyes that when Miller performed this feat the turret was swept by a perfect hell of fire and gases from the bag of powder accidentally ignited. Men were struggling to climb a ladder that promised safety, and others were dropping to the floor to escape the blasts of fire and suffocating fumes. True to the highest ideals of courage Miller held to his post. His was the self-sacrifice of the "man behind the gun."

When he had shoved the charge clear into the gun barrel out of harm's way, he himself stood in the midst of a swirling mass of fire. Life

BEST MARKSMEN COMPETE FOR HONORS

Nation Guard Encampment is Scene of Excellent Shooting.

Las Vegas, N. M., July 26.—(Special.)—The best shooting of the encampment took place this morning at the national guard rifle range, the best shots in the various companies of the New Mexico regiment competing.

The drills today were also of much improved order, though that feature all through the week has been excellent. The companies will break camp tomorrow and return to their homes, though the hours of departure have not yet been announced by Adjutant General Tarkington.

One of the exciting contests of the week was held yesterday afternoon when thirty of the best shots in the militia entered competition to determine the contestants to be sent to the national contest in Ohio in the fall.

The Contestants.

The following were the contestants: Vierra, Andrews, McHughes, McCormick, Gutterman, Lengersalter, all of Company F, Santa Fe; Ames, Company A, Las Cruces; McCullough, Company F, Santa Fe; Jenkins, Troop A, Las Vegas; General Tarkington, headquarters, Santa Fe; Col. Abbott, Santa Fe; Wade, Company A, Las Cruces; Reed, Company F, Santa Fe; Nelson, Roswell; Hyatt, Company A, Las Cruces; Sharp, Troop A, Las Vegas; Ball, Company D, Silver City; Desauter, Company A, Las Cruces; O. Lohman, Company A, Las Cruces; Baker, Company A, Las Cruces; Lieut. Smith, Roswell; Sergt. Laner, Company D, Silver City; Lane, Company G, Albuquerque; Major Rankin, Las Vegas; Llewellyn, Company A, Las Cruces; Lieut. Lohman, Roswell; Major Ruppe, Albuquerque; Lieut. Rasmus, signal corps, Roswell; Brooks, signal corps, Roswell.

The governor's cup was won by the Santa Fe team, with Las Vegas and Las Cruces fighting for second place.

Sergeant Jenkins of Troop A, made the high score in yesterday's contest at 290 yards, having made 45 out of a possible 50.

Dress parade at 7 o'clock each evening has been well attended by visitors, and the camp life of the militia has been carefully observed by hundreds of civilians during the week.

Nearly all of the officers attended the ball given in their honor at the Commercial club Thursday evening by Adjutant General Tarkington and the affair was greatly enjoyed.

FIND SKELETONS IN GRAVEL PIT

Sioux Falls, S. D., July 26.—Skeletons are being found in a gravel pit from which the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad company is obtaining ballast for its extension through western South Dakota from the Missouri River to the Black Hills. The gravel pit is situated on the eastern end of the extension, near the town of Oacoma, and but a short distance from the Missouri river. In the portions of the gravel pit, human skeletons have thus far been unearthed.

Most of them were found at a depth of from four to eight feet beneath the surface of the ground, and all were buried in either a standing or sitting posture. The majority of the skeletons are those of people of a small stature, much below the ordinary or average height of the present North American Indians.

One skeleton, however, is that of a man who in life must have been feet in height. In close proximity to the skeleton of this giant were found implements of copper and bone, these being found in each of the graves near that of the giant, while in another grave was discovered a copper idol about eight inches in length.

The Charming Woman is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires: neatness, clear eyes, clean smooth skin, that springiness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strength, brighten eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. SHOT IN HEAD, HE WIRES MESSAGE

West Point, N. Y., July 26.—Desperately wounded though he was by the bullet of an undetected assassin, Night Operator A. H. Short, with heroic composure, turned to his instrument in the West Shore railroad station here and telegraphed a message to the operator at Highland Falls. The latter summoned Dr. Blanchard and also notified the railroad detective at West Point.

It was Short's first night at the West Point station. Six months ago an operator was murdered mysteriously on duty and since then the office has been considered "hoodooed."

Short was lying on the table on which were the telegraph instruments when a shot was fired through the window opening on the railroad track. The bullet entered his head in front of the right ear and passed down into the neck.

When the doctor reached the station he had to force the window. Crawling in he found the wounded operator on the floor. He now lies in the West Point hospital in a precarious condition. His wife lives at Bridgeport, Conn. There is no clue to the identity of the one who did the shooting.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and if the inflammation is closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube, hearing will never be restored. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube, hearing will never be restored.

The Biggest Kind of a Change that Ever Happened to Any Magazine Has Happened This Month to

THE SCRAP BOOK

THE SCRAP BOOK for July is issued in two sections—two complete magazines, each with its own cover and its own table of contents. One of these sections is an ALL-ILLUSTRATED magazine; the other is an ALL-FICTION magazine. Each is a mammoth magazine in itself. The one presents an overwhelming array of human interest articles and illustrations; the other an enormous tonnage of fiction—160 pages of absorbing stories.

Ten years ago I created a new type of magazine—the ALL-FICTION magazine. Now I am creating another distinct type—the ALL-ILLUSTRATED magazine. This is the age of specialization. The conventional magazine, with its smattering of illustrations and its smattering of fiction and its smattering of everything else, is being replaced by the ALL-FICTION magazine and the ALL-ILLUSTRATED magazine, joined together as a unit, strengthen each other, and make something really big and forceful and convincing.

The Only Way to Know a Thing is to Try It

The two-section magazine idea is brand-new to the world. It is not quite new with me, however, as I have given it, at odd times, four or five years of thought. It first came into my mind in response to a desire to couple, in some way, the strength of the all-fiction magazine with the illustrated features of the conventional magazine. It has been a difficult problem to work out. Now that the idea is perfected, I wish to see what there is in it. It looks to me to be very good, but the only way to know a thing is to try it.

Two Magazines for a Quarter—Easy Money

The price of this two-part magazine is twenty-five cents, which is equal to twelve and one-half cents a magazine. Most magazines which were selling at ten cents have been advanced to fifteen cents. THE SCRAP BOOK in two parts means two magazines for twenty-five cents against thirty cents for two fifteen cent magazines.
